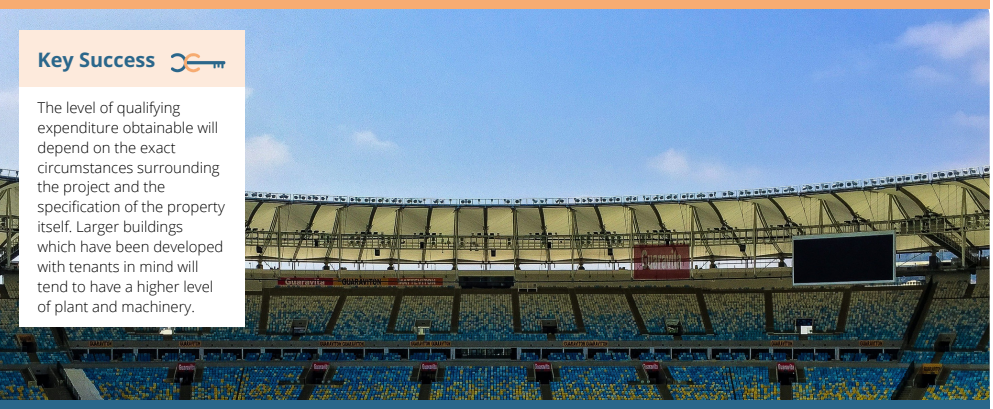
UNLOCKING PROPERTY TAX FOR THE LEISURE SECTOR

Key Success

The level of qualifying expenditure obtainable will depend on the exact circumstances surrounding the project and the specification of the property itself. Larger buildings which have been developed with tenants in mind will tend to have a higher level of plant and machinery.



The Great Ice Hockey Player Wayne Gretzky once said, "You miss 100 percent of the shots you don't take." Whilst capital allowances of 100% can be claimed in some cases, they will be 100% missed if not claimed. Sports clubs, leisure complexes and sports stadiums, usually contain a significant proportion of plant, machinery and fixture and fittings. So, whether the business is a small gym or an olympic stadium all these business can still benefit from tax relief on their commercial property interests, through capital allowances.

Capital Allowances are available to businesses paying tax in the UK that are incurring capital expenditure on purchasing or fitting out their premises. This tax relief is given at various rates; these include Land Remediation Relief at 150%; Full Expensing (UK Companies only) 100%; Annual Investment Allowances 100%, Revenue Deductions 100% and then Main Pool Plant at 18% and Special Rate Pool Plant at 6%. The level of capital allowances that are achieved will depend on the specification and the level of fit out of the property. A number of items that would normally be fitted to a leisure facility are eligible for relief, typical items include: fire alarms, security installations, mechanical ventilations, electrical systems, turnstiles, people counters, lighting, heating and air-conditioning.

Whether you are building, buying, fitting out leased premises or refurbishing existing premises there are many opportunities for you to benefit from capital allowances. However, the earlier you consider the allowances in your property transaction the more likely your are to maximise the allowances available. This is especially true when purchasing premises to ensure changes in the legislation don't preclude you claiming on assets within the property.

Our processes look to enhance the level of capital allowances that may have already been claimed by your accountant. This normally relates to lump sum contractor stage payments for fit out or extension projects, to help identify items that are not easily identified within the invoices and sit within Land & Buildings on the Balance Sheet. Here our survey and processes create the required information to maximise your Capital Allowances.

How Capital Allowances Add Value

For investors in the leisure sector, the main benefit of claiming capital allowances is that it may improve your cash flow. In addition, claiming and maximising capital allowances has secondary benefits for the taxpayer including:

- Providing a means where the taxpayer has more working capital at their disposal;
- Making available more cash to pay lenders, therefore lowering the risk of the investment in the eyes of the lender;
- Giving the taxpayer the potential of using the available cash generated to make further investments, or improve other areas of the business;
- Provides an opportunity for investors to increase the return on their investment;
- In some circumstances, this can create a payable tax credit from HM Revenue and Customs.

For those developing properties as stock in trade, for the leisure sector, the main benefit for considering capital allowances is not in terms of improving cash flow but in enhancing the property's saleability and potentially its value.

Unlocking Capital Allowances

WHY CAVETTA CONSULTING

Helping you maximise your tax relief is how we add value for you. The full benefit of capital allowances advice is only realised when you, the tax payer, are proactive. At Cavetta Consulting our directors have considerable experience advising businesses, property investors, landlords, and occupiers on all capital allowances implications that impact their business.

Traditionally, tax relief is perceived as the role of an accountant. However, like many elements of accountancy, tax has a number of sub-specialisms, including capital allowances. Therefore, your accountant may not have the time or resources to manage the expectation that capital allowances is only a tax issue. In reality, claiming capital allowances involves resolving tax, finance, legal, property, construction and valuation issues.

A capital allowances adviser has a different range of knowledge and skills from your accountant. This enables us to provide assistance to you in negotiations with HM Revenue and Customs; particularly when they are questioning valuation techniques and construction methodology and technology. Capital Allowances claims must be able to stand up to scrutiny. The figures need not only to be correct but also justifiable. This will ensure you have no further wide spread enquiries from HMRC.

We offer free advice to all businesses at the pre-planning stage of their business to make them aware of the benefits the tax system allows as well as a free, no obligation review of completed or potential schemes in order to determine whether a viable claim for property tax reliefs can be claimed.

Our fee structure is tailored to take account of the tax status of the individual or business and is designed to add value to your business. And we never under take a valuation if your accountant could make the claim or we can't add value.

Types of Allowances

Plant and Machinery Allowances

These allowances are given for qualifying items that are used in the course of a claimant's trade or profession. Allowances are given at 6% for assets that are deemed to be an integral part of the building and 18% for other qualifying items.

Annual Investment Allowance

For all qualifying business expenditure incurred the Government provides an Annual Investment Allowance. This gives a 100% relief for the first £1million of qualifying expenditure, providing a significant cash flow benefit.

Full Expensing

For UK companies only, the Government provides an unlimited, 100% first-year allowance. This allows a full deduction from taxable profits in the year that the expenditure is incurred. The expenditure must be incurred on or after 1 April 2023 but before 1 April 2026 and must be on new and unused assets. It must not have been bought to lease, (although corporate landlords may benefit in respect of background plant and machinery in a leased property).

Structures & Buildings Allowance

This allowance applies to contracts for construction or purchases entered into on or after 29 October 2018. It provides a 3% flat rate relief of the qualifying items eg roof, walls, doors, on a straight-line basis.

Land Remediation Expenditure

This relief aims to remove the cost barriers associated with remediating contamination from land and buildings by giving a 150% deduction for qualifying expenditure for UK companies.

Repairs and Maintenance

A 100% tax deduction is available on certain refurbishment or maintenance costs deemed to be repairs and not improvements. It is important to note the changes to the rules in 2008 regarding the repair of integral features.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY: Callum McFadden, Director, Unique Investments Group Limited

Alan has been excellent. I have recently procured a commercial property which he provided advice on capital allowances for - free of charge! This was more than just a quick consultation and he even reviewed to contracts prior to completion.
